

Clerical Errors, Secular Lies

When Charismatic young priest, William Clifford, is brought before the Provincial Court of The Church in Wales accused of impropriety and of bringing the church into disrepute the sleepy Welsh seaside village of Rhagriff Bay becomes the focus of a media feeding frenzy. One journalist, charged by his editor with finding an original slant, is determined to ask questions about the real truth behind the scandal: is the priest really guilty as charged? Or is he, as he and his coterie of loyal supporters allege :merely the innocent victim of a conspiracy? As the trial progresses, and with the help of two villagers, and a private journal. He begins to uncover a web of deceit, half-truths and rumour that entangles all concerned, and from which no one emerges unscathed. As the facts emerge the real story proves to be a sad catalogue of clerical errors and secular lies that will eventually change the lives of everyone concerned, wreck relationships and split the community into opposing factions forever.
