

Demon Queen

WOULD YOU RATHER KNEEL IN HEAVEN OR REIGN IN HELL! BLURB Liwet Lunais Allengahny walks the earth with a single minded focus. Half angel, part demon, shunned by the world around her, she learned to grow a thick second skin few can pierce. Once, she allowed her heart to guide her, and the experience near destroyed her. Oriax is a man of few words, but many actions. He stalks Liwet, not because he wants to. The demon pulling his strings has demanded he destroy her life, in the worst way imaginable. By taking her heart. EXCERPT No one else will die for me, I whispered. Mastema straightened to his full height, towering over me. Its my job, duty, and right to protect my sister, who is the imminent ruler of my legion. Not like this! Im not like you. He shot a Duh, no, really? smirk. My dark powers arent bound, even if I dont know how to use them. Up until last week, the Grand Legion didnt give a shit about what I did, provided I didnt stir up trouble. Stupid bastards, Nicor said. I waved off the comment. But now I mean something to them. I pose a threat, right? Me. Not any of you. Unless Unless what? Mastema growled. You stand between them and what they want. What if this is exactly what Gaap wants? Whether you use your powers or not, any scene you make will be a big offense and just as bad as if youd let your demon hang out for the world to see. I can still fight with all Ive got. Im not bound by the laws as you are. We know what they are you dont. Melchom ground his teeth. I know parlor tricks with enough flash to make them wary of me. I can do this. You dont have to. You can stay here, where its safe. Well contact Oriax and call in more guards. Aythna and her sisters created that spell with everything they had. We might have time Their magic is human, no matter how talented they are, Mast. A witch spell will act as a speed bump, nothing more. You plan to go out there alone to face them? His voice stayed low, deadly. I lifted my chin and met his gaze. Damn right I will. You wont survive. Fuck, Mast! Where is all that faith you had in me fifteen minutes ago? Ive done this your way for how many days now? Ive come to heel, and Im tired of it. You-Will-Not-Die-For-Me. Not today, or any other. He growled. Youre so fucking stubborn! You raised me to be. My hands clenched into fists. Fine, Ill make a compromise. I will go out there, all by my lonesome, and show them I dont fear them. But if Im over my head, then, and only then, may you come out with guns blazing. My stomach rolled. Youd be dead before I could get to you. Come now, brother mine. Youve prepared me for days just like today. Dirty half-breed, come out to play, a second male voice called from outside. I whirled for the door, releasing my inner rabid dog. Mastema grabbed my arm. Liwet. Dont you dare try to stop me! I wont. Their insult grants you the right. I stilled. Then give me your oath youll stay inside? You have it. Not good enough. I grabbed the knife, tucked into the waistband of my pants. I sliced my hand wide open. Your blood oath. He said nothing, simply holding out his hand for me to cut. I sliced deep. We clasped palms in a warriors tradition: palm over wrist, right over the beat of our pulses, the weakest point of the arm and a show of honor, respect, and trust. Then he did the most appalling thing hed done yet. He pulled me into a hug. I will not interfere until my service to you is vital, he said into my ear. I snatched a pistol grip shotgun from him and faced the crowd. For many of you, I am your celebrated, ordained queen, whether I accept this or not. For once, my title works in my favor. I met Melchoms glare. With that privilege, I order you to stay here to protect my brother and his livelihood. I left Mastema and the head of the guard to deal with the uproar. With a flick of a finger, the front door swung open.
