

Intertwining of Two Minds

This book consists of poems that were created from the true feelings that twin brothers may share without each others knowledge. Minds do think alike in many ways, especially if they are related in origin and family. My twin brother Jerry passed away this past year, leaving behind a notebook filled with his dreams, feelings and personal understanding and interpretation of life. I was fortunate enough to discover these masterful works and helped him complete his thoughts and assigned them meaningful titles. He wanted to continue talking to the people of the world even in his absence. The pleasures you will receive from the reading of these poems will create a feeling of warmth and attachment within your heart and soul. Magically, you will see the intertwining of minds overcome obstacle even death to pronounce their truths to one another and mankind. Hidden and personal secrets of love, character, and observations will be relived and revealed.
