

Hunting Gumnor (The Running Tide Book 3)

Gumnor, the last of the foghorn whales, has vanished. The sea is alive with strange sounds, flashing lights and Navy patrol boats, but there is no sign of her. Rarty, daughter of the whale-keeper, and her schoolfriend Lionel run away to find her before it is too late. Part of THE RUNNING TIDE series - three interconnected books for children aged 10-12 and upwards. The other volumes are COMPASS MURPHY and THE SHIP THIEF. The books can be read individually, or as part of a series, and in any order. This is a beautiful tale of friendship, loyalty and the unfathomable mysteries of the sea. Awards Nominated for the Carnegie Medal 1999 Runner-up for the Branford Boase Award 2000 Reviews This wonderfully original story captures the strange world of the sea better than any children's book that I have ever read.
